

EVERYONE ASKED TO CONSERVE GAS

Churches, Schools and Theaters May Have to Be Closed.

TO CUT OFF FACTORIES

Public Must Be First, Is Decision of State Corporation Commission.

Special to The World.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 4.—Conservation of fuel supplies even to the closing of churches, schools, theaters and amusement places may be necessary if the state corporation commission, which is engaged in a struggle to conserve the fuel supply, should decide to cut off the supply to factories.

Additional violations of the law regarding the taking of more than one-half of the potential capacity of gas wells are expected to be discovered as a result of tests being made by conservation officers in the fields. The Long Star Gas company, which serves Dallas, Fort Worth and other Texas cities, was fined $500 last week for a violation of the law. Conservation officers are instructed to padlock all wells where this law is being violated.

To Cut Off Industrial.
With the supply of gas in sufficient to meet the needs for homes, business and industry will be refused service, according to the order of the corporation commission. The supply of fuel on hand and in sight of the railway companies has been described as "a hand to mouth ration."

Governor Robertson returned late yesterday, having been delayed on a trip from Chicago, where he went to confer with fuel administration officials and governors of other states. During his absence a committee of the executive committee of the state council of defense drafted a set of resolutions giving the policy of the state council with reference to the fuel situation. A letter is being dispatched to newspapers, chambers of commerce, commercial organizations and business interests asking that one of the men be secured from each business institution or industry in the state to be sent to the council as a part of the volunteer force of miners. "Inasmuch as this is a patriotic duty for the commonwealth, the men who go from their work should not sustain any loss in reputation and should be returned to their former positions when the present emergency is over," the letter reads. Another letter urges the necessity of establishing municipal wood yards in every city and community in the state.
The letter points out that there is a great deal of labor that is now unusually engaged that can be put to work cutting and hauling wood to be distributed by the municipal divisor or community organization.

HENRYETTA, Dec. 4.—The Lions club has organized a series of entertainments for the winter season.
They give the first program Monday, December 15, with wives and sweethearts of members as special guests.

SHAWNEE, Dec. 4.—Of the eight townships voting on the question of building permanent roads in this county, only one district—Earsboro —polled sufficient votes to authorize the issuance of bonds, according to County Clerk H. B. Wyatt.

OKTON, Dec. 4.—The Baptist church authorities are contemplating the erection of a new edifice during 1920. Much of the money has been subscribed. It was at first intended to build a hospital in connection with the church but not enough money was raised to erect both buildings.

Business Men of Muskogee Talk of
The City Managerial Form Government.

Special to The World.
MUSKOGEE, Dec. 4.—The members of Muskogee's city council are evenly divided upon the question of adopting the managerial form of government as proposed by the civic affair committee of the city instead of the present commission form.

The mayor and one commissioner favor the change. Two commissioners oppose it and the fifth member of the council, Commissioner Warren Butz, who would be the only man thrown out or a job by the change, has stated he is not qualified to pass an opinion upon the matter until he has studied the proposed new charter. His own job is of secondary importance he declared.

The premier overcoat house in this section

BY reason of the vast business Tulsa men and young men bestow upon this store we are able to have greater stocks of fine overcoats than any other house in Tulsa or the southwest. Even this season, when overcoats are almost as scarce as hen's teeth, we have big stocks of them.

OF COURSE, every clothier claims to have lots of overcoats. Probably their stocks do seem large when they think of the cost. But if you want to prove just where the big stocks are, look around first, then come here.

THERE isn't an overcoat need of any man that we can't meet. Styles for dress, for business, for driving, for any outdoor occasion. Some with fur collars, others with plain storm or dress collars. No use to argue. See the coats and know all about them. $35 and up.

Fur caps

You ought to have a good fur cap for these sudden cold waves. Keep your ears warm and look like ready money.
Some of Muskrat, Hudson Seal and Beaver furs in all the popular styles at $7.50 up.

Fur collars

A fur collar on your overcoat just doubles the warmth as well as adds to its good looks. Here in taupe nutria, Hudson Seal, Beaver and Persian lamb at $15 and more.

Fur gloves

Fur and fur lined gloves are a little luxury that every man ought to have. Here in all styles and furs. Rabbit, Muskrat, Hudson Seal, Beaver and others at $5 up. Leather gaun-lets at $5 up.

How often do you get a satisfying shave?

Make sure of 500 smooth shaves from every twelve blades

MANY men get a really enjoyable shave only once or twice each week—whenever they use a new blade. The keen, fresh edge slips easily through the beard, and leaves the face velvet-smooth.

How often do YOU get a shave like this?

Right after the first shave, a blade begins to grow dull.

Each succeeding shave usually becomes more uncomfortable, until at last you throw the blade away.

With the AutoStrop Razor you can get a shave as smooth and clean as that first shave with a new blade—every day of the week!

Built right into the frame is a simple, efficient stropping device which resharps the blade in a few seconds—without taking the razor apart or removing the blade.

Five hundred satisfying shaves are guaranteed from every dozen blades.

Begin tomorrow to get the comfort of a fresh, keen edge for every shave. Ask your dealer today
